Highlighted: real patient searches, not just the practice name

“root canal therapy tysons” #1 · “emergency dental surgery” #1 · “dental clinic near me” #1 · “dentist 22102” #2.3 · “tooth extractions near me” #4 · “dentures tysons corner va” #5 · “failed root canal tysons corner va” #5 · “fluoride mclean va” #5.5. Volumes are still small because the site is weeks old. Google testing a new site in top spots is the signal that comes right before steady new-patient traffic.

"Google rank" = the result's position counting down from #1 at the very top, not the page number. Since Sept 12 launch.

PATIENT SEARCH	GOOGLE RANK	RESULT
"dentist 22102"	#2.2	PAGE 1
"tooth extractions near me"	#4.0	PAGE 1
"dentures tysons corner va"	#5.0	PAGE 1

"dental crowns and bridges tysons"	#8.8	PAGE 1
"sealants mclean va"	#9.0	PAGE 1
"orthodontics tysons corner"	#9.0	PAGE 1

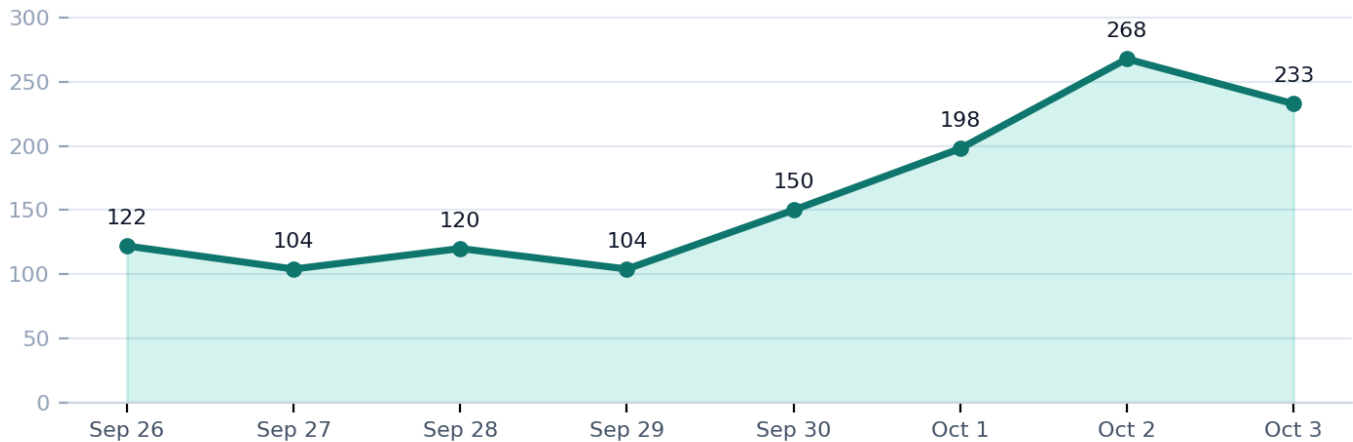

Plus: the practice ranks #1 for its own name ("westpark dental studio") and lands on Page 1 for searches for Dr. Ajineh by name, so patients who hear about the practice can find it instantly.

How to read "Position"

Position is not a page number. It is the site's rank in Google's results, counting from #1 at the very top of the page down. Position 1 = the first result a patient sees. Positions 1–10 = Page 1. Positions 11–20 = Page 2. Search Console reports an average, so #8.2 means the site typically shows up as about the 8th result on Page 1.

Google visibility more than doubled in a single week

Daily times the site appeared in Google results, Sept 26 – Oct 3, 2026. From 122 to a peak of 268 in one week.

Timeline

Why this matters for your practice

New dental websites commonly take 3 to 6 months before Google trusts them enough to show them on Page 1 for competitive local searches. Westpark reached Page 1 for core services in about three weeks. Every month you sit on page 2 or 3 is a month of new-patient calls going to the practice down the street.
